Genesee Community Services New ABA Clinic Open

(Oconomowoc, Wis.) Genesee Community Services (GCS), a MyPath Company, provides community-based services for children and adolescents using behavior modification techniques. Their array of in-home services is tailored to the needs of each child and targets a range of skill areas such as communication, social skills, self-care, and motor-development.

GCS is excited to announce the opening of their new ABA clinic located in Brookfield. With the new space they will be able to serve more clients, hire more staff, and create more revenue.

In the older shared space with The Richardson School (TRS), a MyPath Company, GCS was limited to the number of clients they could serve. The new location is approximately 10,000 square feet and will allow them to serve over 20 clients, where before their maximum capacity was 13.

According to Kelly Blaschko, Executive Director at GCS, the new space allows GCS to grow as it features a therapeutic space with several breakout rooms for individual therapy, sensory swings and area, and a playground. There is also more space for our employee-owners to reset, re-group and enjoy their jobs.

The clinic serves clients 18 months to six years old. GCS will continue to provide in home services in Waukesha and Milwaukee Counties as well.
